About Me

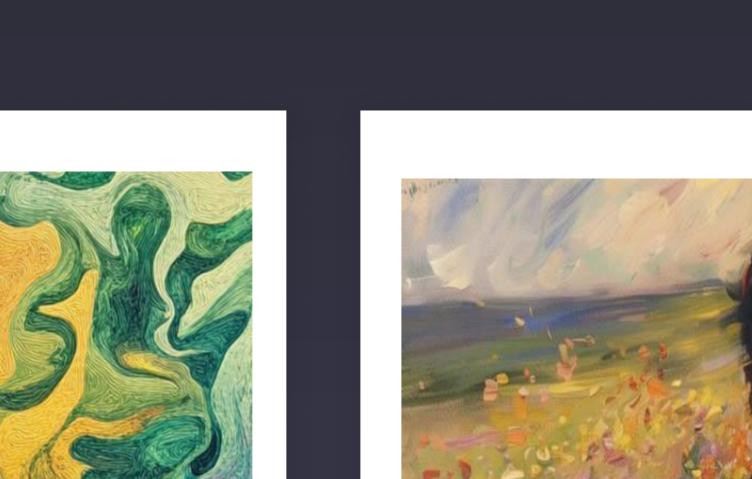

Through art and feeling, I reveal myself. Soft, poetic, dreamy that's the world I live in. A space where thoughts glow like constellations, gently scattered across paper. Where every stroke of ink and flicker of moonlight unveils my soul. I find stories in scraps, magic in messes, and joy in anything handmade. "Art is how I feel in color". Where ink meets emotion, and art becomes confession. Every stroke, every scrap, every story a glimpse into my heart. Every brushstroke, a whisper. Every page, a piece of me
